

Snow Monkey Class

January 2023

Happy New Year from Snow Monkey Class and we hope you had a great winter break. We have been back for almost two weeks and working hard. We have been doing some Japanese cooking to celebrate the beginning of the new year. In Literacy we have been reading some books by Ludwig Bemelmans, all about the adventures of a little girl called Madeline and in mathematics we have been working on understanding picture graphs and completing the mid-year revision. In IPC we have been learning about islands.
